BACKGROUND

Iowa County, together with twenty-two jurisdictions, including the Town of Waldwick, applied for a Comprehensive Planning Grant through the Wisconsin Department of Administration in the fall of 2001. In the spring of 2002, the Comprehensive Planning Grant was awarded. Iowa County and the jurisdictions within it contracted with the Southwestern Wisconsin Regional Planning Commission (SWWRPC) to complete individual comprehensive plans for each of the twenty-three participating jurisdictions (Iowa County, cities, towns, and villages) in accordance with Wisconsin Statutes 66.1001.

Because of the large number of involved jurisdictions and in an effort to streamline planning meetings, individual jurisdictions were grouped into “clusters”, based on their physical proximity to one another, resulting in six cluster groups. Iowa County was a separate cluster.

- “Northwest Cluster” (Towns of Highland and Pulaski, Villages of Avoca and Highland)
- “Northeast Cluster” (Towns of Arena, Clyde, and Wyoming, and the Village of Arena)
- “Central Cluster” (Towns of Dodgeville and Ridgeway, Village of Ridgeway, and City of Dodgeville)
- “Southwest Cluster” (Towns of Eden, Linden and Mifflin, and Village of Linden)
- “South Central Cluster” (Towns of Mineral Point and Waldwick, and City of Mineral Point)
- “Southeast Cluster” (Town of Moscow, and Villages of Blanchardville and Hollandale)
- Iowa County

COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

COMMUNITY SURVEY

In September and October of 2002, the staff from SWWRPC and University of Wisconsin Extension Service-Iowa County (UWEX-Iowa County) developed a countywide survey that was distributed to all property owners in Iowa County. A total of 10,752 surveys were sent out, 225 to Town of Waldwick property owners. Eighty-eight surveys were sent back, giving the Town a 39 percent return rate. (See Appendix A-1 for complete survey results.)

COMMUNITY VISION

A vision statement identifies where an organization (the Town of Waldwick) intends to be in the future and how to best meet the future needs of its stakeholders: citizens. The vision statement incorporates a shared understanding of the nature and purpose of the organization and uses this understanding to move towards a greater purpose together. SWWRPC, in conjunction with UWEX-Iowa County, sponsored visioning sessions for each cluster in the autumn and winter of 2002-2003. The Town of Waldwick’s planning commission utilized the visioning information from these sessions to create a formal vision statement. The vision statement by the Town of Waldwick is

To insure that future development takes place in a thoughtful and organized manner to preserve and protect our natural resources and agricultural land and maintain our rural character.

VISIONING

In February 2003, the Town of Waldwick planning representatives were asked to identify issues, opportunities, strengths, and weaknesses specific to the Town of Waldwick. The following lists are based on the cluster visioning exercise, countywide survey, and local Plan Commission meetings. (See Appendix A-2 for the South Central Cluster's visioning results.)

Issues

- Maintaining agricultural focus, keeping farms and farmers
- Preserving and improving groundwater quality
- Determining residential lot size
- Determining housing density and dispersal
- Protecting wildlife and wildlife habitat

Opportunities

- Allowing some residential construction on agricultural land would reduce pressure for construction on woods and wildlife habitat

Strengths

- Agricultural base
- Natural beauty
- Strength of family and community
- Rural/small town quality
- Near jobs
- Strong percentage favoring cluster housing development

Weaknesses

- Not enough elderly housing
- Not enough high paying jobs
- No perception of historical significance
- Some weakness in recycling program

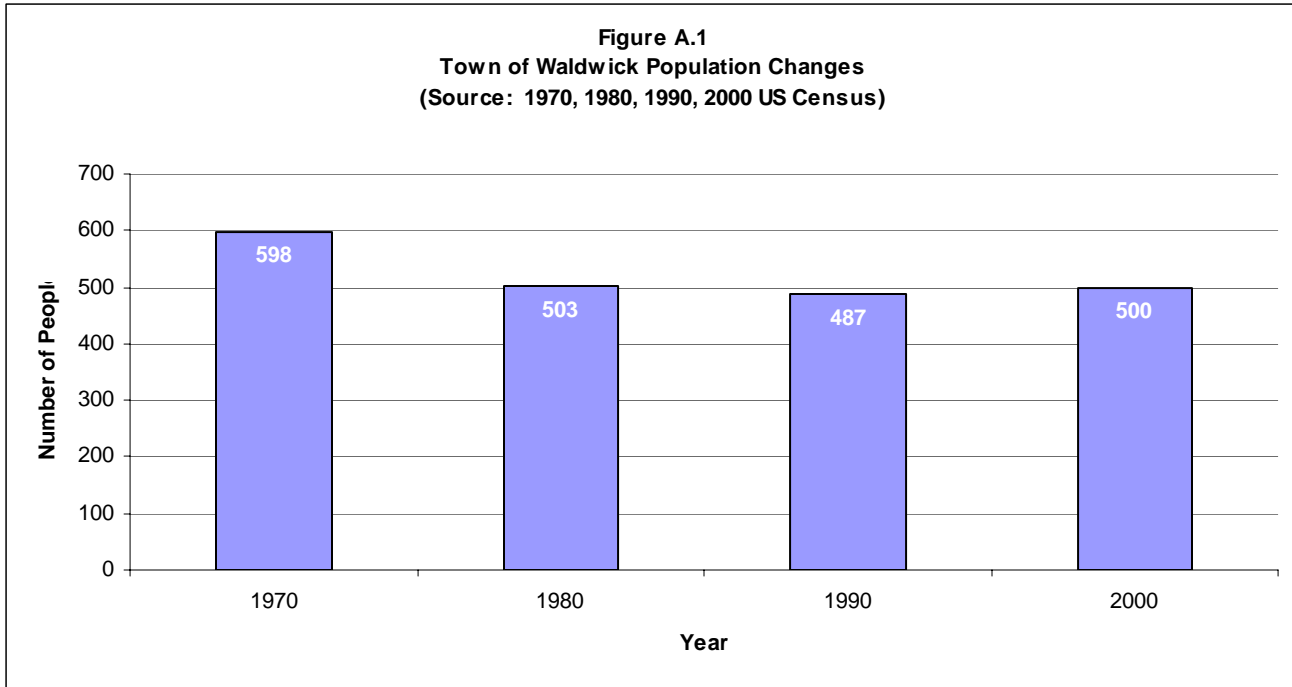

COMMUNITY PUBLIC PARTICIPATION PLAN

DEMOGRAPHIC PROJECTIONS

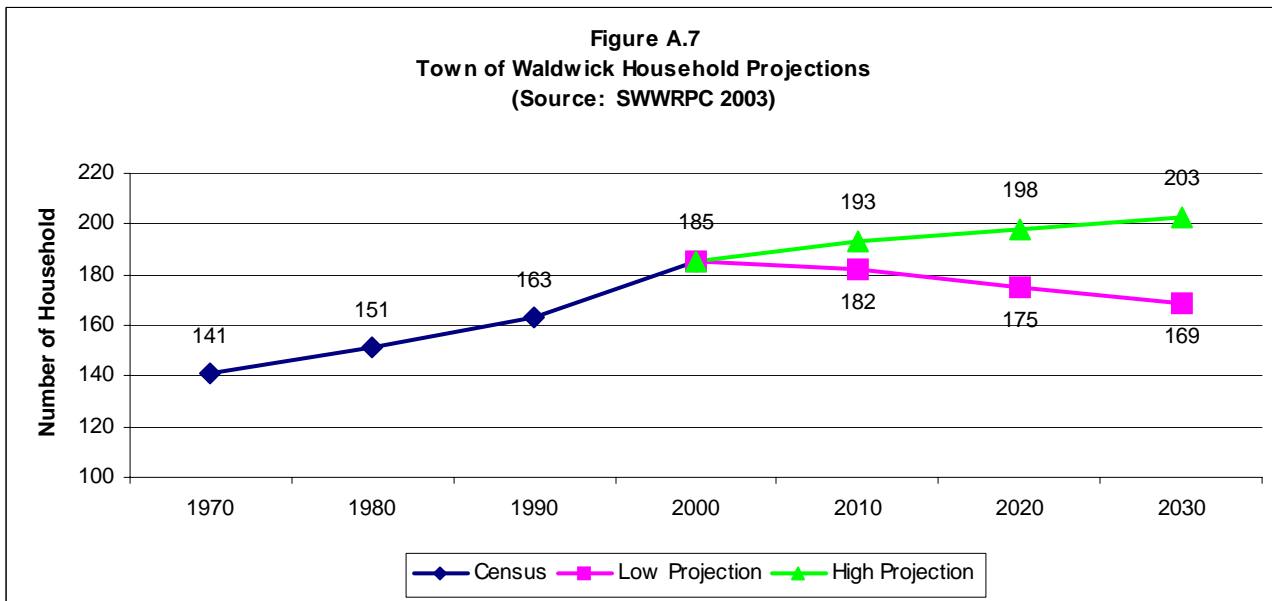

POPULATION

Preparing population projections is necessary to provide planners, developers, and others with expected increases or decreases in given base years. Reliable projections of population are needed for all kinds of planning or policy decisions whether involving the need for extending utilities, building a new highway, or starting a business. All these require some notion of probable demand for such facilities. Figure A.6 shows past population trends as well as projections to the year 2030. The figure gives both low and high projections, showing an overall population increase in the next 30 years.

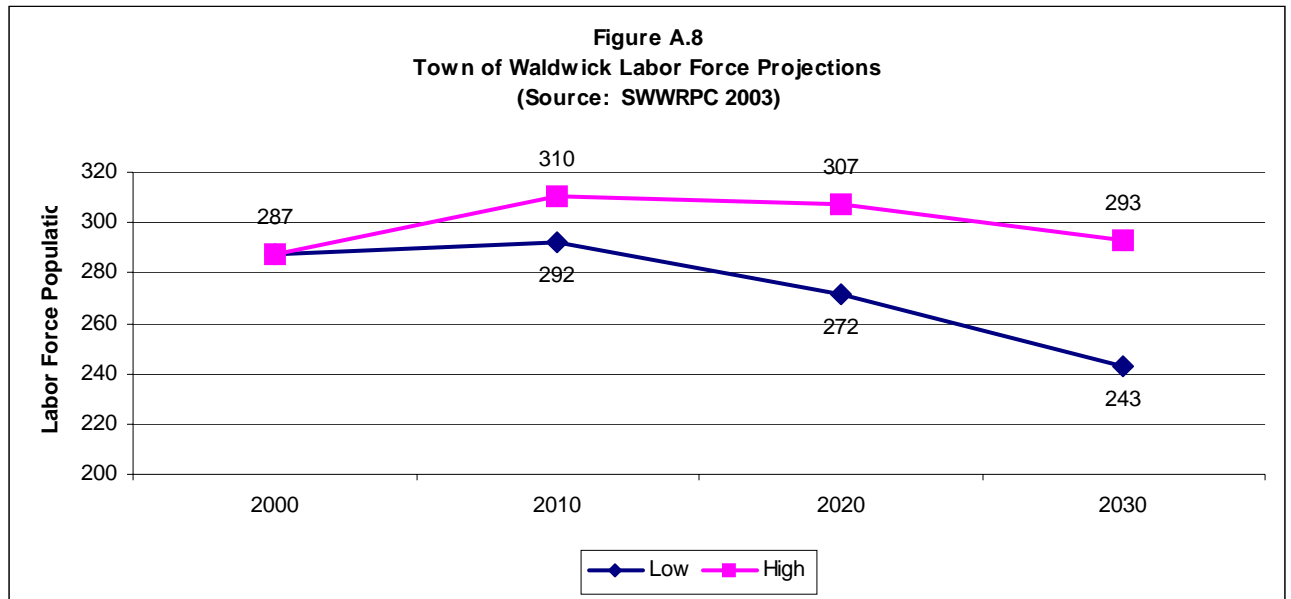

HOUSEHOLD

LABOR FORCE

Figure A.8 shows labor force projections for the Town of Waldwick. These available workers will not necessarily find employment in the Town: many will work in nearby towns and cities. The figure merely indicates the available labor pool residing in the Town of Waldwick. For more information, go to Section F, Economic Development Element.

All of the projections presented in this section are based on past trends. The projections are intended as a guide. A sudden change, such as the creation of a large industry in an outlying area may dramatically impact these projections.
